

I'm not a robot

Lutheran south academy soccer

Lutheran South Academy Soccer Wins Again Lutheran south academy has been on a winning streak, with victories in their last game against Fort Bend Christian Academy and another win on Monday. The school's soccer team has shown great form lately, outscoring their opponents by an average of 4.5 goals over the past two games. The Lutheran South Academy Pioneers have dominated their matches, showcasing impressive offensive skills. In their recent game against Second Baptist, the team took a strong lead in the second half and managed to secure another win. Fans can catch live broadcasts of the team's matches on MaxPreps.com, as well as view upcoming schedules, rosters, rankings, standings, and more. The school's soccer program offers students a diverse range of sports options, catering to individual interests and abilities. The Lutheran South Academy Pioneers are set to face new opponents in their upcoming games. Lutheran South Academy's athletic programs offer a diverse array of sports options that cater to every student's interests and abilities. They've got a strong record in soccer, with their boys' team being featured on their official page. In fact, some students even made it to the NCAA championship, winning big time! You can catch live broadcasts of their games, including the boys' soccer schedule, which has been pretty impressive lately. The academy's commitment to sports is evident through its robust programs, which emphasize not just physical skills but also important life lessons like teamwork and leadership. Students are encouraged to develop their athletic abilities while building character traits that will benefit them long after graduation. With a focus on holistic growth, Lutheran South Academy's athletics program is all about creating well-rounded individuals. You can check out the latest news, schedules, and standings for both boys' and girls' soccer teams on Maxpreps.com. The academy has been on a roll lately, with their boys' team having won three in a row, including two against tough opponents. Their girls' team is also doing well, so be sure to catch up on their schedule and highlights! Lutheran South Academy's strong athletics programs are just one aspect of the school's dedication to fostering a well-rounded education. With a reputation for excellent academics and character development, this Houston-based institution is definitely worth checking out! The Episcopal School's track teams made a strong impression at the recent SPC Championships. The boys' team, led by Coach Isaiah Coleman, won their third consecutive title with a score of 193.5 points, leaving Kinkaid in second place. The girls' team also dominated, securing their second straight championship with an impressive 226.5 points, surpassing St. John's by over 80 points. Notable performances came from DeVonte "DJ" Taylor II, who won five individual events and contributed to the 4x100m Relay victory for Episcopal. Mary Taylor led the girls' team, taking gold in three events and earning silver and bronze in others. Other standout athletes included Tennessee Galbreth, Travis Johnson II, Ryder Linebarger, Josh Johnson, and Rodney Thomas II from the boys' team, as well as Sophia Cormier, Ariana White, Meg Billipp, Georgia Bass, Kamille Bishop, Ryan Fox, and Emilia Sanchez from the girls' team. Episcopal's strong showing solidified their reputation as a powerhouse in SPC track and field. Meanwhile, Fort Worth Country Day's boys track team made history by capturing their first-ever SPC championship title with 178 points. Their outstanding relay unit played a crucial role in securing the win. Individual standout performances came from Owen Bloemendal, who won gold in the 200m Dash and silver in the 100m Dash, as well as Diego Hatcher, Cal Neubauer, Nate Blan, Kai Chancellor, and Jackson Bloemendal. This milestone victory marked a new beginning for FWCD's track program. The Awty International School girls' team also made a mark by capturing their first-ever SPC Championship with 182 points. Led by Coach Ryan Harlan, the Rams showcased exceptional depth and determination throughout the competition. Liesl Sercu was a standout performer, taking gold in two events and adding a silver in another. These impressive performances demonstrated the strength and talent of these track teams, leaving their mark on the SPC Championships. The Awty International School track team dominated the 200-meter dash and relay events, securing top spots and setting a high standard for future performances. The school's 4x400-meter relay team won the gold medal, while the 4x800-meter relay team took bronze. Individual performers also made notable contributions to the team's success, including Edgar Thielens, who won first place in several events. In the boys' division of the SPC-3A championship, John Cooper School and Fort Worth Country Day School (FWCD) had strong showings. Owen Bloemendal from FWCD took first place in the 200-meter dash, while Eli Grzelewski from John Cooper won the 100-meter dash. Diego Hatcher from FWCD finished third in the 100-meter dash. In other events, Felipe Beltran from Awty won second place in the 3200-meter run, and Patrick Spori from Cistercian Prep took first place in the 110-meter hurdles. Wyatt Gray from Oakridge set records in both shot put and discus throw. The girls' division saw strong performances from Brooklyn Singer from ESD, who took first place in both the 100-meter dash and 200-meter dash. Liesl Sercu from Awty won first place in the 400-meter dash, and Nahla Whittier from ESD finished second in the same event. DeVonte "DJ" Taylor II, Episcopal -- 1st in 100m Dash (10.48 s), 1st in 110m Hurdles (13.75 s), 1st in 300m Hurdles (37.09 s) Sam CdeBaca, Houston Christian -- 1st in 200m Dash (21.65 s), 2nd in 100m Dash (10.74 s), 2nd in 400m Dash (49.09 s) Laird Burke, Greenhill -- 3rd in 100m Dash (10.77 s) Gregory Guidry, Houston Christian -- 2nd in 200m Dash (21.66 s), 3rd in 400m Dash (49.93 s), 3rd in High Jump (6-00.00) The relay teams from St. Mark's, St. John's, and Greenhill took top spots in their respective events, with St. Mark's finishing third in the 4x400m relay and St. John's taking second place in the 4x800m relay. Individual athletes also performed well, with Oliver Hill of Greenhill winning the shot put event and Travis Johnson II of Episcopal dominating the discus throw. Ethan Williams of Kinkaid won the high jump competition, while Ryder Linebarger of Episcopal set a record in the pole vault. The girls' teams also showed impressive performances, with Episcopal taking first place in the 4x100m relay and St. John's finishing second in both the 4x400m and 4x800m relays. Individual athletes such as Sophia Cormier, Ariana White, and Thea Popovic excelled in their respective events. The track meet also featured notable performances from the relay teams of Episcopal, St. John's, Greenhill, Hockaday, and Duchesne, with each team taking top spots in multiple events.